The Republican Platform.
The following platform, reported by the Committee on Besolutions, was unanimous adopted by the National Republican Conve ion in session at Chicago on the 21st inst The National Republican party of the United States, assembled in National Convention in the city of Chicago on the 20th day of May. 1868, make the following declaration of principles:

First._We congratulate the country on the assured success of the reconstruction policy of Congress, as evinced by the adoption, in a majority of the States lately in rebellion, of Constitutions securing equal civil and political rights to all, and regard it as the daty of the tovernment to sentain these institutions, and to reven the resolution from her contracts fr rights to all, and regard it as the duty of the tovernment to seatain there institutions, and to prevent the people of runh fisters from being resulted to a state of anarchy.

Second.—The guarantee of Congress of equal suffrage to all loyal men at the South was demanded by every consideration of public safety, of gratitude and of justice, and must be maintained, while the question of suffrage in all the loyal States properly belongs to the people of those States.

Third—We denounce all forms of supuliation as a national conservation as a national crime, and the national honor requires the payment of the public indebtedness in the amount good faith to all creditors, at home and abroad, not only according to the letter but the spirit of the laws under which it was contracted.

Fourth—It is due to the labor of the nation that transition should be equalized, and reduced as rapidly as the national faith will permit. Fifth—The national debt, contracted as it has been for the preservation of the Union for all time to come, should be extended over a fair period for redemption, and it is the duty of Congress to reduce the rate of interest thereon whenever it can possibly be done.

Sight.—That the best to foon any money at lower rates of interest than we now pay, and must continue to pay so long as repudiation, partials or best, open or overs, is threatened.

Seconds of the document of the United Seconds.—The Government of the United must continue to pay so long as reputiation, partial or total, open or covert, is threatened of imposted.

Bownth—The Government of the United States should be administered with the strictest economy, and the corruptions which have been so shamefully nursed and fostered by Andrew Johnson cell lendly for radical reform. Sighth—We profoundly deplore the untimely and tragic desth of Abraham Litucoln, and regret the secusion of Andrew Johnson to the Presidency, who has solted resolutionally to the people who selected him and the cause he was judged to support has usurped legislative and judicial functions; has refused to exceed the length has described by the content of the United States as a rest and imprisonment by any foreign power for acts and imprisonment to interfere in his behalf.

Tenth_Of all who were faithful in the trials Tanth—Of all who were faithful in the trials of the late war there were none entitled to more especial bonor than the brave soldiers and seamen who endured the hardships of campaign and cruite, and imperiled their lives in the service of the country. The boanties and pensions provided by law for these brave defenders of the nation are obligations never to be forgotten. The widows and orphans of the gailant dead are the wards of the people, a sacred legacy bequesthed to the nation's protecting care. Elsewith—Foreign emigration, which in the or motion of General Carl Schurz, the foltowing additional resolutions were unanimousity adopted as part of the platform:

Resolved, That we highly commend the spirit of magnanimity and forbearance with which the men who have served in the rebellion, but now frankly and honestly co-operate with us in restoring the bonestly co-operate with us in restoring the peace of the country and reconstructing the Southern Stane Governments upon the basis of imparital justice and equal right, are received back into the communion of the loyal people, and we favir safety of the loyal people.

Resolved, That we recognize the great principles laid down in the immortal Declaration of Independence and the true foundation of democratic government; and we hall with gladness every effort toward making these principles aliving reality on every inch of the American soil.

CEPTANCE THE PLATFORM ENDORSED.

The following are the letters of General Grant and Hon. Schuyler Colfax, accepting the nomi-nation for the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the United States by the Republican National Convention:

Washington, D. C., May 29, 1868.

wantsoros, D. C., May 29, 1808.

Gen. Jumph R. Haueley, President National Union Republican Committee... In formally accepting the nonsimilation of the National Colon Republican Convention, of the 21st of May Instant, it seems proper that some statement of views beyond the mere acceptance of the nomination should be expressed.

The proceedings of the Convention were marked with wisdom, moderation and patricular, and I believe express the feelings of the great mass of these who sustained the country through its recent trials. I endorse their resolutions, I felected to the office of President of the United States, it will be my endeavor to administer all the laws in good faith, with seconomy, and with the view of giving peace, quiet and protection everywhere. In times title the present it is impossible, or, at least, e.u. in ally improper, to lay down a policy to be adhered to, right or wrong, through an administration of four years. New political issues, not foreseen, are contactly arising the views of the public on old ones are constantly changing, and a purely administrations.

the views of the public on old ones are con-stantly changing, and a purely administrative officer should always be left free to execute the will of the people. I always have espected that will, and always shall.

Peace and universal prosperity, its sequence, with economy of administration, will lighten the burden of taration, while it constantly reduces the national debt. Let us have peace. With great respect, your obscilent servant, U. S. GRANT.

Washington, May 30.

Hon. J. R. Handey, President National Union Republican Convention. Draw Sin. The platform adopted by the patriotic convention over which you presided, and the resolutions which so happily supplement it, so entirely agree with my views as to a just national policy, that my thanks are due to the delegates, as much for this clear and auspicious declaration of principles as for the nomination with which I have been honored, and which I gratefully accept.

with which I have been doneses, saw which is gratefully accept.

When a great rebellion which imperiled the mational existence was at last overthrown, the duty of all others devolving on those entrasted with the responsibilities of legislation evidently was to require that the revolted States should be re-admitted to participation in the Government against which they had warred only on such a basis as to increase and fortify not to weaken or endanger the strength of the nation.

Certainly no one ought to have claimed that they should be re-admitted under such rule that their organisation as States result ever again be used, as at the opening of the war, to deft the national anthority, or to destroy the national anthority. This principle has been the pile star of these who have influsibly losisted on the Congressional policy your convention to corrisinly endouced. Influed by Exsentive opposition, and by paralisees, refusals to accept any plan of reconstruction prediced by Congress, justice and public safety at last combined to teach us that only by an enlargement of suffrage in those States could the desired end be attained, and that it was even more safe to give the ballot to these who loved the Union that to those who had quoght in effectually to destroy; it. The assured success of this legislation is being written on the adament of history, and will be our triumphant vindication. More clearly, too, than ever before does the rul on now recognize that the greatest glory: a republic is, that it throws the shield of its profection over the humblest and the weakert of its projec, and vindicates the rights of the poor and the powerfus.

the rights of the poor and the powerless as faithfully as those of the rich and the power-ful.

I rejoice, too, in this connection, to find in your platform the frank and fearless arowal that the naturalised citizens must be protected abroad "at every husard, as though they were native bern." Our whole people are foreigners or decendants of foreigners. Our fathers established by arms their right to be called a nation. It remains for us to establish the right to welcome to our shores all who are willing by oaths of allegiance to become American elitisens. Perpetual allegiance, as claimed abroad, is only another name for perpetual bondage, and would make all daves to the soil where first they saw the light. Our national cometeries prove how faithfully these oaths of fidelity to their adopted land have been seeled in the life-blood of thousands upon thousands. Should we not then be faithless to the dead if we did not protect their living brethren in the enjoyment of that nationality, for which side by side with the native born our soldiers of foreign birth laid down their lives.

It was fitting, too, that the representatives of a party which had proved so true to national duty in time of war, should speak so clearly in time of peace for the maintenance untarnished of national hour, national credit, and good faith as regards its debt, the cust of our national existence.

I do not need to extend this reply by further comment on a platform which has elicited nished of national honor, national credit, and good faith as regards its debt, the cost of our national existence.

I do not need to extend this reply by further comment on a platform which has elicited such hearty approval throughout the land. The debt of gratitude it asknowledges to the brave man who saved the Union from destruction—the frank approval of annesty hased on repeatance and leyalty—the demand for the most therough economy and honesty in the Government—the sympathy of the party of liberty with all throughout the world who long for the liberty we here enjoy—and the recignition of the sublime principles of the Desiration of Independence, are worthy of the organization on whose banners they are to be written in the coming contest.

Its past record cannot be blotted out or forgotten. If there had been no republican party, a free press and free speech would be as unknown from the Potomac of the Republican party, a free press and free speech would be as unknown from the Potomac to the Rio Grande as ten years aga. If the Republican party, a free press and free speech would be as unknown from the Potomac to the Rio Grande as ten years aga. If the Republican party, a free press and free speech would be as unknown from the Potomac to the Rio Grande as ten years aga. If the Republican party could have been stricken from existence when the hanner of rebellion was unfuried, and when the response of "no occretion" was heard at the North, we would have had no nation to-day. But for the Republican party daring to risk the odium of tax and draft laws, our flag could not have been kept flying on the field till the long-looked-for victory came. Without a Republican party, the civil rights bill, the guarantee of equality under the law to the humble and the defence-less as well as to the strong, would not be to-day upon our notional statute-book.

With such inspirations from the past, and following the example of the founders of the Republic, who called the victorious General of the Republic, who called the victorious triumphs had saved from its enumes, I cannot doubt that our labors will be crowned with success. And it will be a success that will bring restored hope, confidence, prosperity, and progress. South as well as North, West as well as East, and above all, the blessings under Providence of national concord and peace.

Very truly, yours,

Schuylen Colfax
